Notations:

- 1: As opposed to our "unofficial" order blank which is whatever piece of paper you can come up with. We are people who can read (as long as it is legible). Avoid things like toilet paper, paper towels, etc. as the ink bleeds. "Post-Its" with the order details attached to your check are quite acceptable.
- 2: Yes, we want your mailing address. PO Boxes are okay. Boy, ain't that a switch? Want to swap tales of how miserable it is to live in rural America and try to order something/apply for a credit card/speak with big business? We have a bundle, let's hear yours. Since when did all the people in this country live in big cities? (Pssst, don't tell anyone, but did you know FedEx, UPS, and others, actually drop things off at the Post Office for delivery?)
- 3: We really want a daytime phone number where we can reach you and you won't get ugly. Hey, do you want us to call you at 5:30 AM Eastern Time?
- 4: No, you don't have to, but we do let you know when your order has arrived, when it is shipped and it makes it easy to contact you if there are problems. That way we really avoid the ugly phone call thing.
- 5: Seriously, we want your normal shoe size (unless you need wide/narrow, etc.) or your head circumference measurement unless you have purchased from us before and know what size you received. Mittens and gloves really work best with tracings.
- 6: Color option is available with certain products only. Remember gloves are medium or dark brown. Everything else, except where noted (some ear muffs, seatbelt covers, etc.), is in Tonka. You can put whatever you want here but you will still get Tonka.
- 7: Tax, very confusing. This is for Vermont residents only and only if you can't wear it. No, no imagination allowed. Seat belt covers, teddy bears, and eyeglass cases just should not be worn. (Not in public anyway)
- 8: Now, you know we would really rather have a check but if you must, that is okay.
- 9: Yep, the line is a bit long.
- 10: Ever wonder about those order blanks (like this one)? Do I have to sign it if I am enclosing a check or money order? Heck, no! Only if you are giving us a credit card number.

When you are done, and we do hope you have enjoyed yourself, you may send this form along with appropriate tracings and a check (if that is your choice) to: SHEPHERD'S FLOCK PO BOX 131 TOWNSHEND, VT 05353-0131

IF you have given us your email address, we will let you know when we have things in hand and will give you an approximate ship date or ask for additional details.

If you have additional comments or wish to have the order shipped to another address or addresses then please make note of such on the reverse of this paper (or separate sheet or what have you. No toilet paper, etc.) Oh, yes, we really do, honestly, appreciate your business. Life (and business) should be fun or it just ain't worth it.
